

You are invited to join Northfield
in the Annual Remembrance of 9 11 2001.

We will join together and create a remembrance on the Northfield Common, September 11, 2008 at 7:00 pm. There will be community participation, candle lighting and fellowship.

Since September 11, 2002, the community of Northfield has gathered to remember so we will not forget and to honor those who have and are serving. This year we are asking again for everyone to participate. There is a time of prose, poems, songs and prayers as well as dress uniformed groups of any that want to be in attendance.

This is an open invitation. Any groups are invited to be in the initial parade from the firehouse to the common in dressed uniform. Anyone is encouraged to speak from the heart, read something relevant or offer a prayer. However you want to be involved, please call Chris Alger, 279-0162 or Paul, 279-4752. There is always room for a memory.

Remember me, Remember me
Voices whisper in the midnight air

Clear skies covered in thick black smoke, Dear God, it still makes us choke, Tears in my eyes, I'm deaf to the cries, Fear in our hearts after all these years.

Remember me, Remember me
Voices whisper in the midnight air

Brave young souls running up those stairs, As we watched with cold blank stares, Crushing sound of those smoke filled halls, As they crumble beneath the fall.

Remember me, Remember me
Voices whisper in the midnight air

*America's resolve is united we stand, Turn to one another and take their hand,
One God, one country, one true love, What the world needs now is Grace and Love.*

Remember me, Remember me
Voices whisper in the midnight air

As we show our respect and never forget, Those who showed us the power of love, Never forget, no never forget, Show one another the power of Love.

Written and Shared by Rev. Paul Ciampaglia, 2007